Do you need support to maintain your housing

Keys to Early Intervention in Homelessness Service (KEIHS)

Are any of these things affecting your tenancy?

- Receipt of a Notice to Remedy Breach/ Notice to Leave with Grounds
- Changes to your family/household causing significant concern
- Relationship problems
- Financial difficulties
- Communication with your landlord or agent
- Changes to employment
- Concerns with substance use
- Concerns with gambling
- Physical or mental health concerns
- Changes to household income

(*Please note, KEIHS does not provide housing or assist in finding accommodation.)

Our experienced support workers provide a confidential service which can:

- Give you information about housing and related matters
- Assist you to make contact with other services, such as financial counselling, legal, parenting and relationship services
- Advocate on your behalf with relevant services with your consent
- Inform you about your rights and responsibilities as a tenant
- Provide individually focused case management support
- Provide assistance to plan and achieve goals
- Provide living skills/personal development support
